

1911 - 1921

Women come out of the shadows!

A newspaper writes in 1918: "Today, German women are the freest in the world"

Women in Germany can finally vote and also be elected.

On November 12th, 1918 the Council of the People's Deputies grants women universal suffrage

On January 19th, 1919 the election takes place in Weimar to the National Assembly. Three hundred women run for office and thirty-seven are elected

© Deutscher Frauenring e.V., Berlin

8 June

July

9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30

1 2 3 4 5 6 7